Have you ever felt the overwhelming pressure weighing down your every move? Have you ever searched for fresh ideas, but ran into a dead end with every move you made?
For many, summer was a time of relaxation and merriment, but for the Yearbook Editors it created an unbearable anxiety. Precious hours were consumed while sitting in a drab, sweltering hot sauna of a dorm room, attempting to find an appetizing yearbook theme to which the student body could relate.

What we no longer notice is miraculous. I cannot picture the last time I truly satisfied my appetite. I should feel food spread and cover my entire mouth so that my senses are numbed with such an overwhelming pleasure that I have to close my eyes to isolate and hold on to the sensation. Instead, I scarf down food without remembering how it tasted or even caring about its appearance or preparation. The colors of things as simple as grass or popsicles no longer appear in the fog of commitments.

Our Experiences

A simple memory, a fleeting glimpse of a past experience that dances around your mind before timidly emerging into conscious thought. Why is it that an experience from the past can be all but forgotten when a word, a smell, or even a song brings that experience rushing back? I suppose memories keep us from forgetting the beauties and tragedies of our lives. Just as they define our past, they define who we have become and why. A psychologist could tell you more about that than I ever could. But I'm not here to tell you who you are. Only you can tell me that. I'm here to make sure you don't forget. I'm here to throw a rope to all those millions of memories resting deep within some murky corner of your brain. I'm here to stir up the past and make sure you never forget your high school days. Whether they were the best or the worst of your life, they exist deep within you, defining every step you take.

"YOU ARE WHO YOU ARE."

PEAS IN A POD

Like peas and carrots

At Columbine people spent a lot of time with their friends having fun in whatever way they chose. Some people participated in sports with their friends, such as Sophomore Joel McCormick who replied, "We play soccer every day after school," and Sophomore Ryan Shumer who added, "I like to go skiing with my friends." A good time for Junior Becca Weingartner and her friends was "playing sports and climbing mountains."

People also spent time with their friends at different places. Sophomore Lisa Strunk said she and her pals liked to "go to the mall" and Sophomore Michael Croll remarked, "We go to the movies a lot." Many enjoyed hanging out at their friends' houses such as Sophomore Erin Spizale who exclaimed, "We make cookies."

Sometimes people and their friends didn't plan anything specific. According to Junior Angie Klapper, "We flock empty streets at odd hours" and Sophomore Kelly Dickson added, "We just hang out." Freshman Collin Schwarz said he and his friends simply liked to "just kick it."

In a year of many uncertainties, students could be sure of one thing: Columbine was full of Rebel Pride. Students showed school pride in a variety of ways. Sophomore Anna Taylor revealed, "I show school pride by participating in the Homecoming Spirit Week."

The most popular way of showing pride was attending sporting events. Freshman Thea Allen commented, "I showed my Columbine spirit by going to football games and doing the wave." Senior cheerleader Kim Monroe stated, "I stand out in the hot sun and cold rain, wearing our school colors cheering for all our teams."

Other students showed pride in quieter ways. Sophomore Tyler Pearce announced, "I show Rebel Pride by taking care of my school by picking up litter when I see it." Freshman Justin Obermeyer enjoyed showing the world his pride every time he read. He commented, "I plaster my books in Columbine book covers."

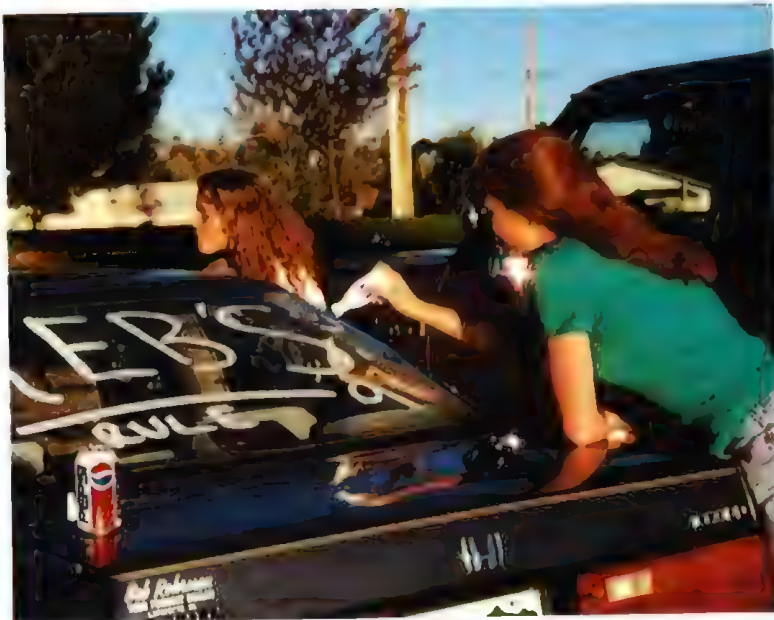

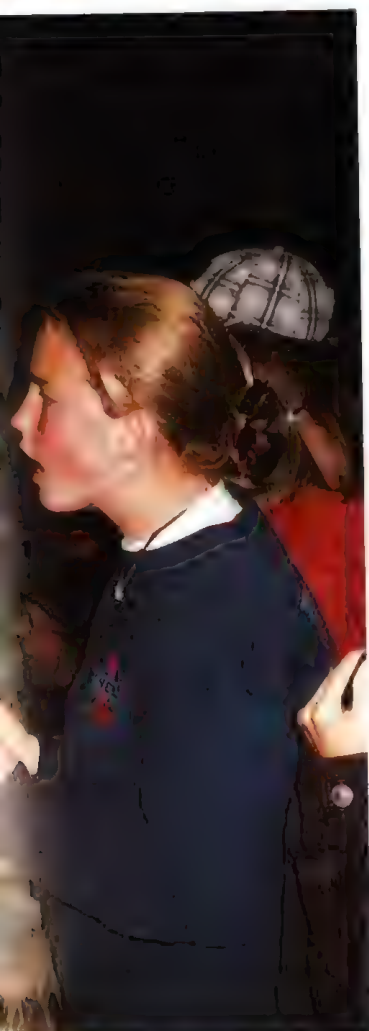

Some students showed spirit in more drastic ways. Junior Katie Davis exclaimed, "I scream 'the Rebels kick butt' from rooftops!"

Whether it was attending sporting events, or just plain taking care of Columbine, showing Rebel Pride was a common pastime.

What life is all about

Homework. Teachers. Hallways. Textbooks. With all the stress and activity that goes along with being a high school student, finding an opportunity to just sit back and have some fun proved to be a challenge in itself.

Many CHS students found their own unique ways to simply enjoy life. Juniors Kelly Landefeld and Lindsey Haviland shared, "We like to go trail-riding on our horses." Senior Liela Barela expressed that, "There are fun dances, retreats, and programs at my youth group."

Clement Park proved to be a popular source of good, clean fun. "My friends and I like to play frisbee in the baseball fields at Clement Park," informed Junior John Davidson. And Freshman Julie Cole stated that she liked to "go to the park to have a picnic."

Other students replied that they liked their fun to have a silly edge. Sophomore Jaime Ericson commented, "My friend and I like to do country line dancing videos in front of the TV." And Junior Cassidy Stewart admitted that she liked to "play in the gutters after it rains."

No matter what students did, they all had fun in the process.

Whether it was going to work, practice or home to study, the days did not end for students when the bell rang at 2:30.

Many teenagers spent their waking hours working at different jobs. Junior Sarah Fisher stated, "When I am not at school or doing my homework, I am at my job at Hit or Miss." Senior Jessica Holgerson said, "I spend three days a week after school at Mail Boxes Etc."

A large number of CHS students devoted their time to sports. Junior Jack Patten III remarked, "I spend 2 1/2 hours training for cross country in my free time." Taking part in a sport was not limited to just playing one. Freshmen Laura Hershenow and Beth Thompsen, stated, "We often go to soccer and football games."

Almost every Columbine student spent time on his or her studies. Senior Alison Hershenow noted, "I spend an average of three hours a night on homework in two A.P. classes in order to keep up my G.P.A."

A goal of the majority of students was to have enough time for everything. Junior Kim Croft experienced the best of many worlds. She explained, "After school, I work, play and study."

LIFE ON THE EDGE

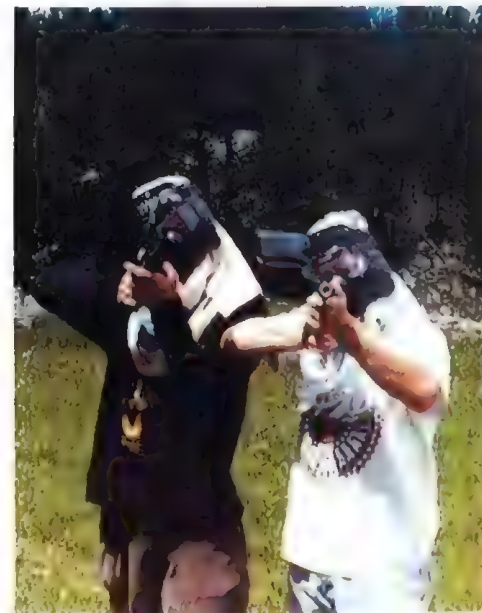

We dream the extreme

Whether it be jumping off a 40 foot cliff or boarding down a snowcapped mountain side, Columbine students thrived on extreme sports.

Some students participated in these extreme sports for the thrill while others aimed to impress. Sophomore Ian Nelson, who participated in wakeboarding, a cross between surfing and water skiing, stated, "It's a cool way to refresh on a hot summer day." Rock Climbing was one of the more dangerous and challenging extreme sports. Senior Missy Adams remarked, "You don't know what you are up against when you're going down the side of a cliff backwards. You have to trust in yourself and your instincts."

Another popular sport for many was rollerblading. The degree of difficulty ranged from gliding down the street to grinding a rail over Clement Park. Senior rollerblader Danny Ficklin stated, "When you overcome the fear and pain, it's the best feeling of your life." Mountain Biking was another extreme sport favored by many CHS students. Sophomore Eric Harris supported this by stating, "You get a rush screaming down a hill at 35 miles per hour."

As the sun rises over the vast Colorado sky, CHS students wonder what passions are found throughout the majestic mountains.

The mountains provided freedom to express for many students. Senior Alicia Pollard confessed that she liked to "hug a tree," and Junior Holly Sykora retreated because she liked "to get away from the city."

Another reason people headed to the mountains was the allure of sports. Junior Greg Hydle explained, "The mountains are my back yard. I use them for skiing and golfing and when Winter Park says 'come play at the park,' I do. Winter Park is my playground." Senior Ben Dubois got his kicks by "flying through the air at high velocity" on his snowboard and Sophomore Leigh Kamens proclaimed, "Mountain biking and hiking are my favorites."

The mountains were also home to those who liked to enjoy life. For Junior Alex Khadiwala only one word came to mind when thinking of the mountains, "Relaxing!" Sophomore Chris Beets admitted, "I like to go camping and be isolated from the rest of the world." Though the hobbies of CHS students differed, we all had one thing in common-the Rocky Mountains.

JUST FOR KICKS

That's entertainment!

Despite long hours of school work and extra curricular activities, students still found time for entertainment.

Junior Erin Medina's attitude captured the feeling of many students. "I don't really care what I do, as long as it involves my friends and it's fun."

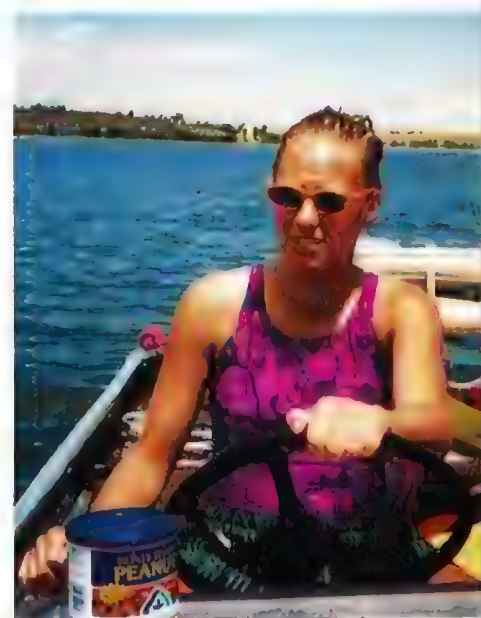

Senior Greg Montgomery enjoyed, "going up to Red Rocks for concerts because it is such an awesome place to see a concert."

Other students were entertained closer to home. Sophomore Kelly Beer explained, "On the big night of a Mike Tyson fight, someone has everyone over to watch it."

Watching the local professional and collegiate action was also popular. Junior Justin White said, "I love going to Avalanche games because the action is nonstop and you're always on the edge of your seat." But CHS students also found watching fellow classmates participate in the always competitive Jefferson County League entertaining. Senior Susie Keppers remarked, "I'd never miss a Chatfield/Columbine matchup, because we can beat Chatfield in any sport."

No matter what one chose to do, Freshman Beth Klepper summed it up nicely, "Entertainment is whatever you let entertain you!"

LEAD THE PACK

School's out; we're not!

Hanging around at the Peer Counseling Retreat, Senior Ben Moulton tests his skills on the ropes course. photo by Jennica Castle

As the final school bell rang and most students began vacation, several dedicated Rebels headed for camp.

These students attended camps such as Senate, Peer Counseling, Yearbook, Cheers and Poms in order to prepare themselves for the next school year. Senior cheerleader Stacey Anderson described, "Surviving all of the injuries and the mile hike to the meal hall bonded our cheer squad."

In some cases the bonding experience came in a more challenging way. Senior senator Matt Burley remembered, "At the ropes course we had to pass everybody through a spiderweb which made us support each other and realize everybody's strengths and weaknesses."

What could possibly bring closeness to a group better than the security of friendship? Senior Senator Ellen Wamser explained, "Senate members became friends by playing embarrassing games!"

Yearbook editors also bonded at camp. Senior Leigh Brodie agreed, "We had so much work to do in such a confined space that we had the chance to do everything together. We lived together for a week and were around each other constantly since we didn't know anybody else there!"

GOT NO DOUGH

Hey there big spender!

Trendy clothes, CDs, concert tickets, gasoline. What do all of these objects have in common? They are all essential items that can cause a person to become virtually broke.

A large sum of teenagers' money was spent maintaining their automobiles. Junior Whitney Walker confessed that she spent most of her savings on, "getting my car fixed after each accident." Sophomore James Concilio added, "I spend $28 every time I fill up my parents' van."

Sometimes the cost to keep students entertained was expensive, as well. Senior Chris Ford described, "I spend a lot of money on CDs that I never listen to." Freshman Victor Quinonez explained his extravagant way of spending money. "Once I spent $180 for front row seats to a Dave Matthews concert and they turned out to be false tickets."

Some purchases may seem frivolous but were too irresistible to pass up. Sophomore Zach Cartaya admitted, "I spent $40 on a singing chicken alarm clock," while Sophomore Amber Burgess stated that she spent her money purchasing, "crazy socks!" For whatever the reason, spending money found a place in the lives, or should I say pockets, of CHS students. •Kelly Morris

DEEP INTO SLEEP

Cruisin' for a Snoozin'

The need for sleep, the result of too many late hours and meeting busy social schedules, often became apparent at CHS.

Many, though not succumbing to the urge to snooze during school hours, found it difficult to climb out of bed in the morning. Junior Rachel Neitzey revealed, "I set my alarm clock for an hour before I get up, because I know I'll go back to sleep." Sophomore Carey Cecil said, "If I go straight to the bathroom then I don't feel so drowsy."

For some, the biggest problem was remaining awake during school hours. Senior Dottie Albertson confessed, "I fell asleep once during a video. I slept through the whole thing and I woke up when the whole class was walking out." Freshman Jennifer Falbo, who slept during a lecture, explained, "I just put my head down on my desk and fell asleep. Everybody tried to wake me up before the teacher got to me, but it didn't work, so I got busted."

Sleeping late on weekends became, for some, the highlight of the week, and vacations were partly anticipated because of the added hours of slumbering available. Junior Keith Moore wistfully recalled the summer when, he remarked, "I'd sleep until four in the afternoon."

TWIST AND TURN

Come on, do it again!

Although many of us possess talents that are unique, some students exhibited incredible abilities that impressed and awed their fellow classmates.

Several Rebels were able to perform amazing feats including Freshman Scott Schulte who said, "I can make a gun noise with my tongue," and Freshman Brenda Simons who said, "I'm able to pop my thumb out of my socket."

Senior Chris Aubrecht's unique feat was "walking around in a yoga position," and Senior Jason Crooks said he can push his stomach "out like Buddha."

Freshman Rachel Scott stated, "I can flip my eyelids inside out," and Freshman Brian Sullivan said he can suck his stomach all the way in. Another talented freshman was Carl Ives who added, "I can bend my thumb all the way back to my wrist."

Some stunts performed required bravery as proven by Junior Nick Zawistowski who fed ducks fritos from his mouth.

The natural talents displayed by many revealed the individuality of the students of Columbine High School.

Smil^{ing}—A change of facial expression in which the eyes brighten and the corners of the mouth curve slightly upward which expresses pleasure. Smiles were something that the students of CHS saw often, whether walking down the hall or during their precious time after school.

Many students agreed that they smiled most when they were not in school. Junior Erica Mead commented, "I smile the biggest when I wake up in the morning thinking it's Friday then realizing it's Saturday!"

Sophomore Pam Glazner expressed, "Anything that has to do with dance makes me smile."

For many CHS students their day, like their smiles, began when seventh hour was over. Junior Lorraine Patricca described happiness as "Friday afternoon, sixth hour."

Sometimes insignificant moments brought about the biggest smiles. As Sophomore Ben Smith stated, "Being a Christian makes me smile." And what made many girls smile? As Sophomore Heather Egeland stated, "When I see a good looking guy without a girlfriend."

In the end, CHS students know that a smile speaks to everyone.

LET'S DO LUNCH

You are what you eat

Burger King, the food court, the Bagel Shop, and the cafeteria. What was the connection between all of these places?

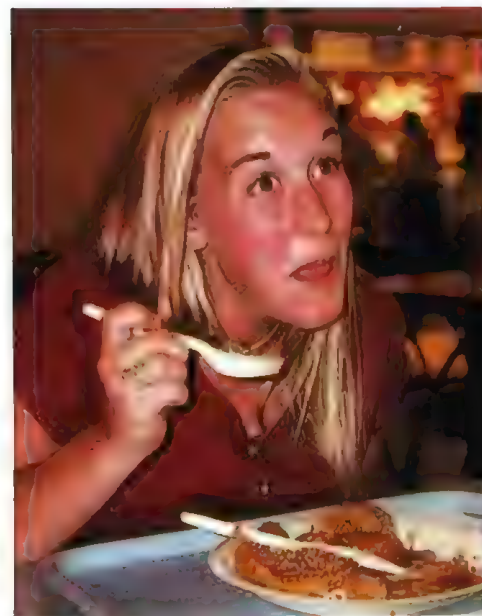

They were all favorite lunch spots of CHS students. According to Senior Kim Monroe, one of the most popular places to eat was the mall. She commented, "I like the food court at the mall because you have a better variety of food."

Sophomore Amber Burgess pointed out that she decided where to eat by the cost of the food. She confessed, "I like Taco Bell because it's cheap." Senior Meagan Price also agreed that cheap food was a definite plus and remarked, "I like eating at New York Bagel because a bagel with cream cheese is only $1.25 with tax."

Juniors Laura Slavec and Megan Dierberger's favorite lunch spot was Burger King. They admitted, "It's fast, and the price comes out to be exactly $2.50 when you get a #3 with cheese."

However, some Columbine students preferred to eat in the cafeteria. Sophomore Kerri Weaver commented, "I eat pop and chips in the cafeteria because the lines are too long everywhere else." Sophomore Matt Carmichael pointed out that some underclassmen are forced to eat in the cafeteria. He exclaimed, "I only eat here because I can't drive!"

Whether risking frostbite or staying cozy and warm, students discovered fun-filled winter activities.

Many hit the slopes, either on skis or snowboards. Junior Pat Borus expressed, "I enjoy tearing up the slopes at Winter Park," while Freshman Emily Barrell exclaimed, "I love to ski Keystone in the winter!" Junior Justin Young stated, "I hiked up Loveland Pass and skied down the Continental Divide," and Sophomore Ryan Foerster liked snowboarding at Copper Mountain because he could "run over the skiers."

Other students headed outside for different activities. Sophomore Leigh Kamens said, "During winter I enjoy sledding, cross country skiing, and making angels in the snow." Senior Jared Porter enjoyed, "getting dressed up in long pants and long sleeves and shooting people in a game of paintball."

Some stayed inside to keep warm. Senior Kelly Ryan commented, "I like to sit in a hot tub after rolling in the snow because it gives a warm tingling sensation" and Senior Kevin Sullivan revealed, "The joy of gathering with friends and family around the fire warms my heart."

GET OFF MY BACK

Don't worry; be happy

From fitting in to graduating, many CHS students agreed that along with a new year came a new load of stress.

Many freshmen decided that making the move to high school was difficult. Freshmen Samantha Free and Christine Bell agreed that it was hard "to get used to fitting in" and "trying to make new friends."

Many sophomores just concentrated on surviving the year. Freshman Melissa Walker believed that "getting all the homework in on time" was a major stress for the year.

Meanwhile Junior Debbie Layton concentrated on preparing for college by "getting through the ACT's and SAT's." Junior Marcie Fazio agreed that, "It's stressful enough trying to keep up in school besides having to study for all the college tests."

Most seniors described their biggest source of stress in two words-A.P. anything. Senior Susie Keppers agreed that most of her stress came from "A.P. English, essays, and 354 page books to be read in four days."

Ultimately, we could all agree on one cause of stress. As Sophomore Casey Stoner simply put it, "just finding the time."

Hordes of excited Columbine students knocked down doors and headed for the first pool, movie or camp ground in sight. There could only be one explanation, summertime!

As the temperature rose and the days grew longer, summer fans such as Seniors Missy Adams and Sarah Tomicich found themselves, "going to the pool to swim and getting a nice tan." But the pool wasn't the only place to get a tan as Sophomore Michelle Markert cited, "I enjoyed going to Atlanta, sitting in the hot sun, and cheering on the Olympic teams."

While the popular place to be was in the water, some Columbine students took a much more energetic approach to summer. Junior Jason Fraser enjoyed, "going to the state tournament in baseball and eating post game dinners at Hooters," while Senior Marcus Chen boasted, "I went hiking up at Yellowstone and I was fortunate enough to see a wolf make off with a live baby bison!"

After four strenuous quarters of labor, three long seasons of math homework, and two endless semesters of cramming for a test, everybody deserved one long, exciting summer.

Let me see your funky chicken

Columbine High School's 1996 Homecoming began with a flashback to summer as Beach Day kicked off Spirit Week and students donned their flip flops and crazy-flowered shirts. "Beach Day was the bomb," commented Senior Jasmine Pina. On Tuesday, students dug through their parents' closets and showed up at school sporting bell bottoms and tie dye in honor of Hippie day. Futuristic outfits were the theme for Wednesday and many a cowboy was seen roaming the halls on Thursday. Freaky Rebel Friday culminated the week as each class wore its colors.

The Homecoming Assembly once again allowed students to reveal their class pride. Student Body President Tyler Paige stated, "I felt there was a lot of energy and enthusiasm at the assembly. I was very proud at that moment to go to Columbine." The velcro-wall also added an aspect of excitement to the assembly. A representative from each grade along with Mr. Webb and Mr.... Go ! Fight ! Win !

...Tonelli got to try their luck at sticking to the wall. Bobby Dartt represented the Freshmen, Sophomore Ryan Shumer attempted to stick for his class, Heather Husband tried her luck for the Junior class, and Senior Adam Sisbarro showed his stuff in honor of the Senior Class. Junior Heather Husband excused her failure by saying, "It was a lot of fun, but my suit was too big and it wouldn't stick."

This year's Homecoming Game against the Arapahoe Warriors proved to be exciting as Seniors John Davis and Louis Hinchey led the Rebel team with two touchdowns each. Senior Brant Fletcher scored the final touchdown in the fourth quarter. Davis commented, "It was Homecoming so we knew what we had to do. We came out on the field and dominated them." A large number of people attended the game, which the Rebels won, 34-21. Many were... (cont. on page 44)

...decked out in Rebel clothing and colors. Junior Steven Zahn was included in the masses. He recalled, "I think the Homecoming game was great because everybody was so excited and spirited."

The enthusiasm from the win the night before carried over into the Homecoming Dance, Saturday, as students danced the night away in the school commons, decorated to the theme "Believe." Sophomore Janine Roberts commented, "Homecoming was a lot of fun. The decorations were a lot better than last year." With all of the festivities and excitement, Homecoming was enjoyed by most everyone.

Sound Advice

What advice would you give to the underclassmen?

Work hard at getting good grades in the beginning (freshman, sophomore years) because if you don't your entire grade point average will be low the rest of high school.

Senior Ups and Downs

What is the best or worst thing about being a senior?

The best thing about being a senior is the fact that we truly begin our life next year. •

•Becky Catron

The best thing is we're almost done with high school.
The worst thing is we have to leave home next year.

•Dan Hughes

Having priority over everyone else.

•Libby Miyashiro

The best part is having to walk only ten feet from our parking spots to the school.

Joke's on You

What is the best joke you've played on someone?

When we were in eighth grade, we took a seventh grader T-Ping. We gave him four rolls and told him to go in the front and we left and called the cops.

•Will Harrison

I had a huge party the summer before my sophomore year and at about 1 a.m., I told everyone the cops were at the front door. I watched about 50 people throw themselves over my fence and scatter into the field across the street.

Companionship

Columbine is made of people. Take away just one of us and the school could be changed. We come together, everyone giving and everyone receiving, each person contributing in some way to this institution. The power within each of us is combined, creating something better and more complete. From the ordinary springs the extraordinary, a group capable of achieving fantastic feats. It sounds

WE ARE ONE

so overused and cliché, but we are one. We easily forget this striking reality and we are quick to feel insignificant and alone. Yet we are all a part of something. We are all intricate pieces with significant roles. Together, we discover that this school is much more than just a network of halls filled with individuals. Together, we are Columbine High School.

Ninety eight, ninety eight, ninety eight!! Since our very first pep rally as freshmen, we have been yelling with pride that simple number, but did we ever stop to think what it means? As Juniors we have stepped over the threshold into the world of upperclassmen. Together, in school, we have learned about the beginning of civilization, we have all stressed over those grueling chemistry and physics tests, contemplated over Camus' The Stranger, and figured out how to complete the square of a binomial equation. But that's not the point; what's important is through our diversity and individuality we, as a class, have become unified. We have become unified in our thoughts, actions and our friendships. Though our lives may change, our class will always remain the same and as Juniors we will know that together forever we are...

WHAT IS THE BEST ADVICE YOU HAVE EVER RECEIVED?

"When you give someone a gift, never expect anything back in return, because then it wasn't worth giving."

•Jessica Nuncio

"If you want dreams to come true, don't oversleep."

•Corando Lozano

"Don't worry about it; whatever it is, it will blow over soon."

•Lauren Scott

"Don't try too hard in high school; just relax and have fun."

•Travis Smith

"There are thousands of languages in the world but a smile speaks them all."

•Mindy Anderson

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again."

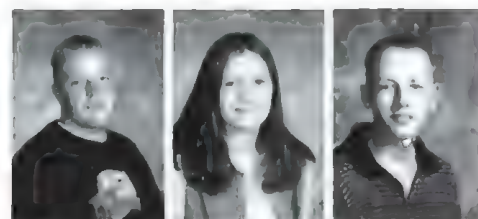

•Tim Kloer

"Don't worry; be happy."

TOP TEN REASONS WHY JUNIORS ARE STRESSED:

10. The ever looming prospect of college
9. Planning for future senior pranks
8. The unfair distinction of being the lower-upper classmen
7. Chemistry
6. The fear of getting hit by a car while sprinting from the Junior parking lot to the front door
5. Chemistry
4. Finding (paying for) a prom date
3. Deciding what elective to take to fill that extra hour
2. Dealing with the first year of real homework
1. Burger-induced rash caused by lunching daily on fast food

Hey sophomores, 1996/97 was definitely a year of change for us whether we were ready for it or not. As sophomores we took off our training wheels and grabbed the keys to the parent's car. In the classroom, the work became more challenging (like deciphering Hawthorne's lingo in The Scarlet Letter), and a little more exciting (like removing the organs of your very own fetal pig). And in the hallways, we were excited to no longer be at the bottom of the life cycle at CHS. We are proud to be the last class graduating in the 20th Century. Finally, we have discovered our individuality and our place at CHS as

Q IF YOU COULD HAVE WISDOM, BEAUTY OR WEALTH, WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE AND WHY?

"I would choose wealth so that I could buy all of my friends Christmas presents."

•Kristi Epling

"Beauty. With beauty I could model, with modeling I could become wealthy, and with wealth I could put myself through college, and at the same time, enjoy life with great looks."

•Jessica Rosecrans

"Wealth, because if I had all the money in the world, I would throw one heck of a rave!"

Like a toddler's first step or a baby's first word, we entered the real world using high school as a doorway. The discoveries and innovations made throughout this first year will be the building blocks for our future. We can grow and mature into young adults while we adapted to new things such as one way halls, an open campus, and the option of having a free hour. As we take our first step into adulthood, we began to bond as

Top Ten Reasons To Love Freshies

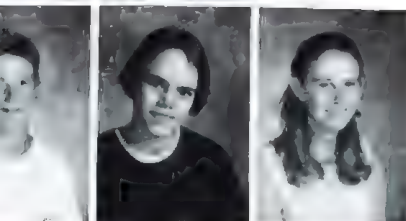

10. We keep the air clean through non-motorized transportation.
9. Because next year we'll be the top o' the bottom.
8. The cute way we think our lives are stressful.
7. How we've found inventive ways to cheer about our year (00).
6. We provide dates for upperclassmen.
5. We keep upperclassmen from feeling so short all the time.
4. We keep the halls full.
3. We teach everyone else the importance of sticking together.
2. We are an inspiration for senior pranks.

FACULTY
IT IS THE PRIVILEGE OF WISDOM TO TEACH

DID YOU KNOW ABOUT CHS FACULTY?

There are eleven staff members who have been at Columbine since the school opened in 1974: Mr. Hayes, Mrs. Cabrerra, Mrs. Caruthers, Mr. Cram, Mr. Havens, Mr. Kauffman, Mr. Long, Mrs. Lutz, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Miller, Mr. Sanders.

Ms. Nykanen wears a different Christmas t-shirt every day between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Mr. Tonelli, Ms. DiManna, Mr. Andres and Mr. Miller all graduated from CHS.

Mr. DeAngelis, Mr. Place and Mrs. Peters were all once teachers at Columbine.

• Mr. Tonelli is the youngest teacher at CHS.

• Mr. Sneddon has been teaching the longest of all teachers at Columbine, 37 years.

• Three teachers transferred from Ken Caryl Middle School to Columbine this year: Mrs. Abbott, Mr. Friesen, and Mrs. Nykanen.

• There are 139 faculty members at Columbine High School.

Our Enlightenment

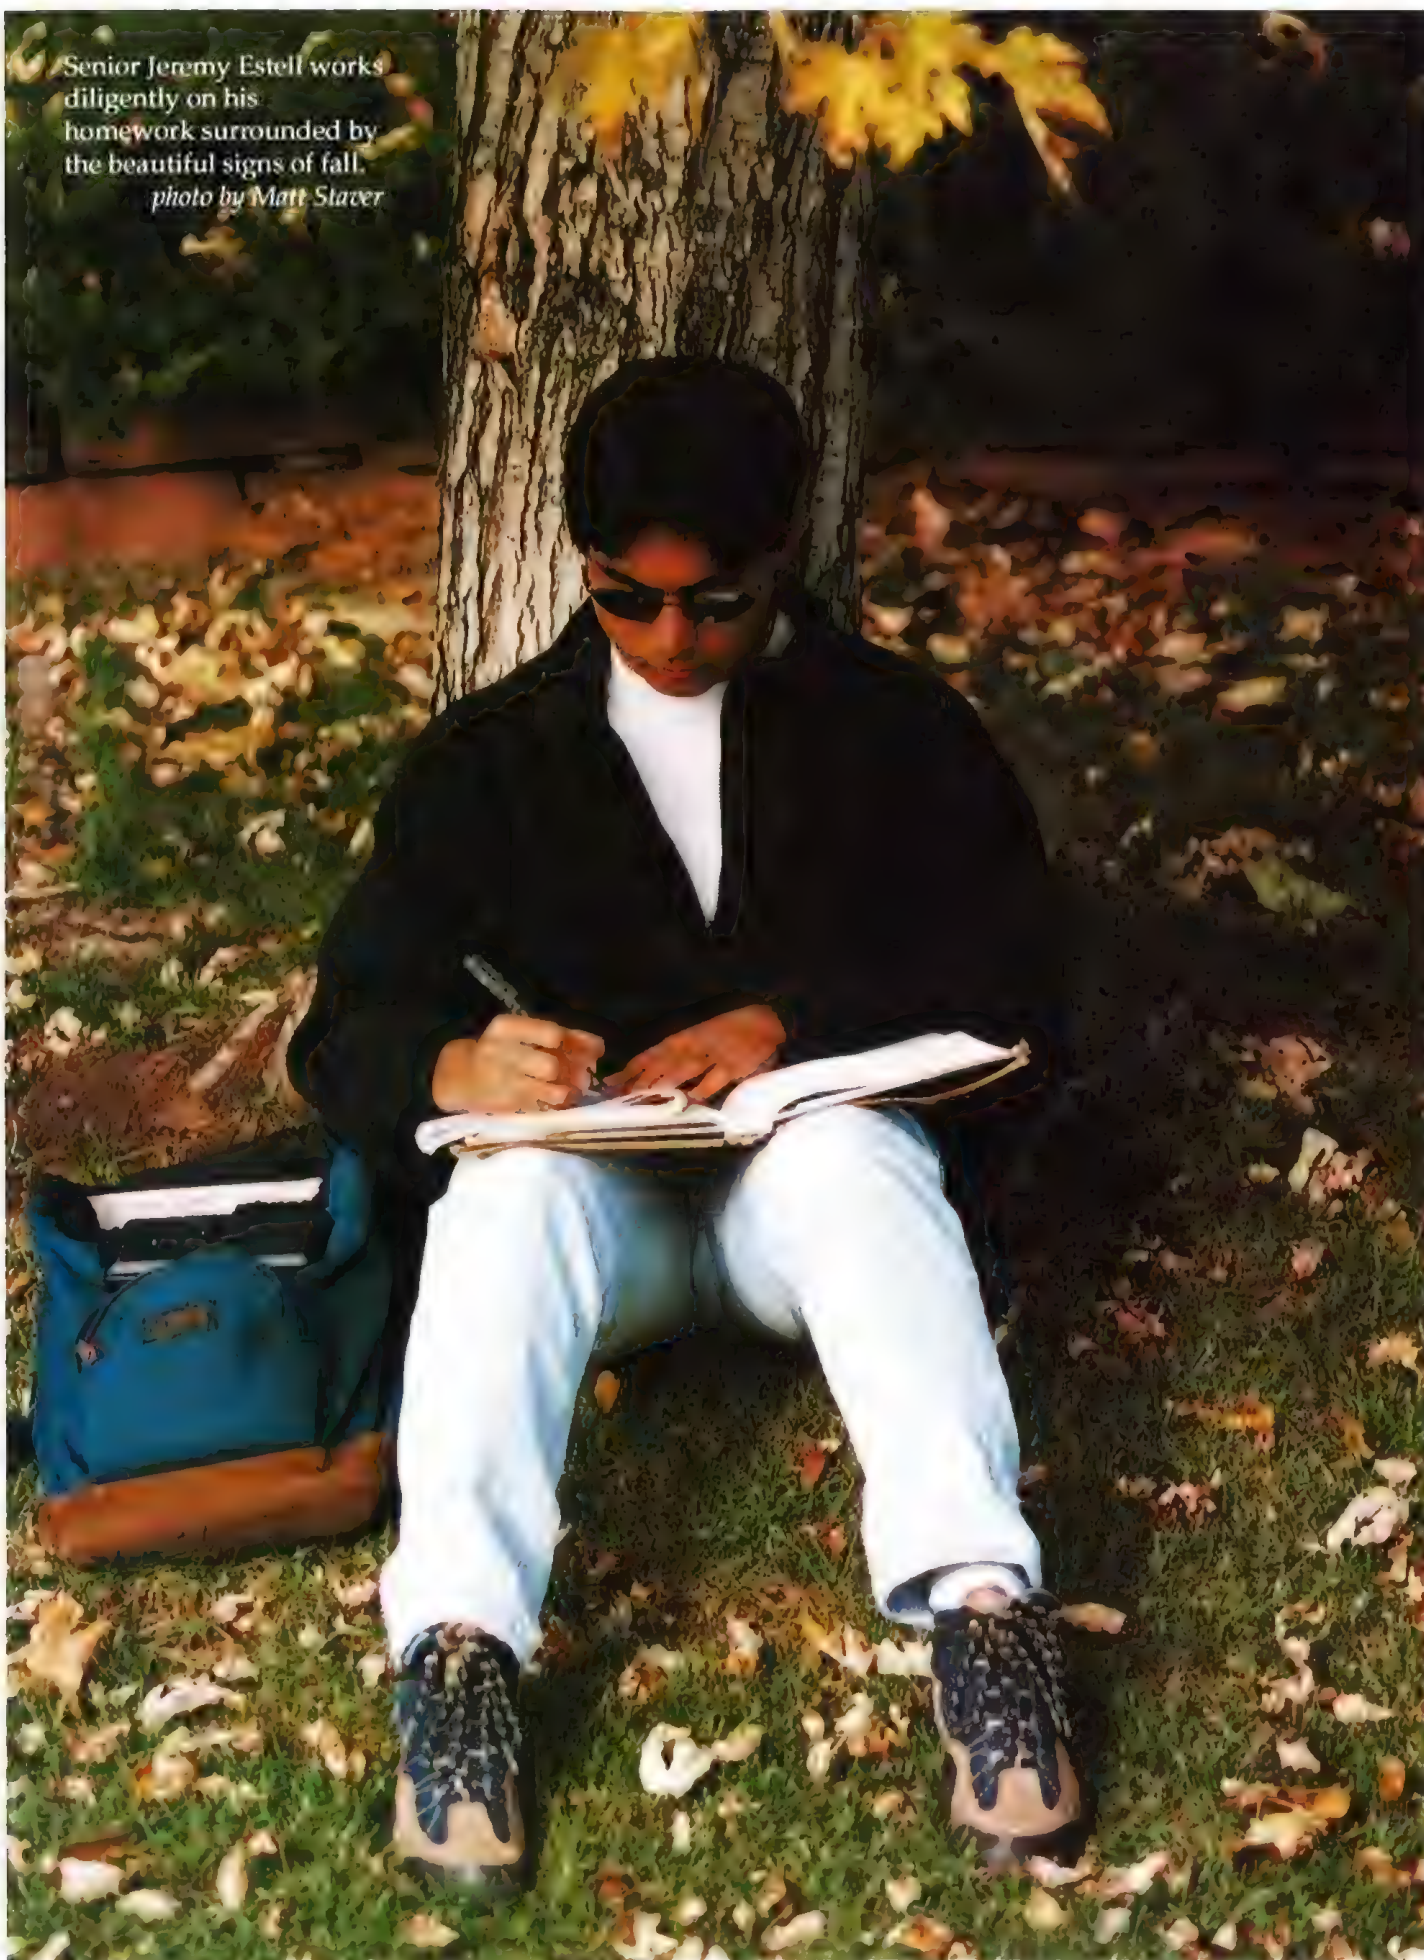

I'll be honest with you. School is not always that exciting. I know some may disagree, but I am sure that everyone at one time or another has sat bored in class staring listlessly into space, put into a trance by the clock dividing hours into minutes and minutes into seconds. But there are times, too soon forgotten, when true learning takes place. The mind, confused and cloudy, gets shot with an arrow of clarity and miraculously everything comes into focus. After eons of murky thought a synapse fires and the cosmic click of knowledge snaps the brain into a land of understanding never to return to the ignorant world from whence it came. The process of learning is revived as an expanse of ideas unfold and spill over into other heads, drowning all shreds of unimportant thought. Together we remind each other what it is to make a connection, to know what friends are thinking before they speak just as we sense what book characters mean before they act. The spark of learning gives us the desire to be enlightened.

IT'S WITHIN YOU

Did you know these facts about...

Foreign Language

- There were only ten students enrolled in Russian during this school year.
- This is the last year that Russian will be offered at Columbine.
- There are a total of 17 ways to say the word the in the four different languages offered at CHS.
- When making a medium size pinata, an average of 525 strips of tissue paper is used.
- The word ohrwurm in German directly translates to earworm in English, but the true German definition is a song that gets stuck in a person's head.
- The longest word in the German language is donaudampfschiffahrtsgesellschaftskapitanswittve, which means the club of widows of boat captains who died while sailing down the Danube River.
- During four years of studying Spanish, a student will spend an average of seven days celebrating with a fiesta.
- The word bread in Spanish is pan and in French it is pain. Though spelled differently, the pronunciation is the same.
- Madame Lutz was born in France while Madame Regnier has visited France about 15 times.
- Columbine is the only Jefferson County school that teaches French I and II through story telling and never uses a text book.

Our Endurance

There is no "I" in the word
team, Together Everyone Achieves More. These words hold a definite truth with school sports, which prove to be the epitome of synergy.

Championship teams are composed of winners who sacrifice themselves so the group can excel;
they practice all spring for a fall sport and all fall for a spring sport. With sore muscles and aching joints, the athlete endures practice for hours

FOR THE GOOD OF THE TEAM

only to receive a short moment of glory. It may be a three point jump shot at the game ending buzzer, or a game winning home run with two down and bases loaded. With thoughts of giving up lurking deep in the minds of many athletes, only true winners never withdraw. If synergy flowed through everyone, we'd all be champions.

Our Creativity

Creativity is a common thread that runs through each individual at CHS. Whether the creative talent each individual possesses is expressed or not, it is still there. It may be creativity through music, art, thought or any other outlet. Even though each of our talents is unique, we are not alone in our creativity. And only by combining our talents can we create an effect greater than we are individually capable of. The single trumpet cannot compare to the overwhelming intricacy of an entire marching band. A lone actor cannot create the same effect an entire cast can. By expressing our talents and combining to thrive off those of others', we create Synergy. A single creative thought combines with another and another until the ultimate peak is reached-Synergy.

THE COMMON THREAD

the SWINGING singing

...do a little dance, sing a little song, get down tonight...

Columbine Blue showed off its singing and dancing talents to provide musical entertainment for all to enjoy.

Blue performed for Columbine as well as for the community. Junior T.J. Manuello exclaimed, "I like Blue because I enjoy being around the other people in the class." Senior Susie Keppers expressed her enthusiasm for Blue by stating, "I like to sing, dance, and I love to meet new people."

•Tracy Crowley

Belles brings together 24 Junior and Senior girls to sing for the school and community of Columbine. The girls in Belles must be enrolled in concert choir with an outstanding voice. Junior Holly Sykora stated, "It was fun singing at the elementary schools for the kids." The girls met three days a week at 6:45 a.m. to sing and dance with Mr. Lee Andres. Their practices paid off during gigs at nursing homes and elementary schools.

•Lindsay Reder

Unclaimed Freight is an all male singing and dancing choir that often succeeds in entertaining the crowd. Freight performed at various places around the community. Senior Andy Glenn described, "The biggest payoff is the look on the kids' faces when we walked in the elementary school." Junior Pat Armstrong exclaimed, "The only bad thing is the really early practices, but it's worth it when we get on stage and see the audience laughing." •Kelly Morris

the HIGHER choir

you know we couldn't get much higher, come on baby, light my choir...

This year at Columbine, members of the Women's Chamber Choir enhanced their talents through various musical experiences. The choir was made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors. The goal of the choir was to acquire experience for advanced choirs in Columbine's vocal department. The highlight of the year was the trip to a women's choir festival in Denver. Senior Emily Walker commented on the choir, "Everybody loves everybody else; it's like one big family."

Women's Chamber Choir met third hour every day and sang traditional songs.

•Jennifer Laufenberg

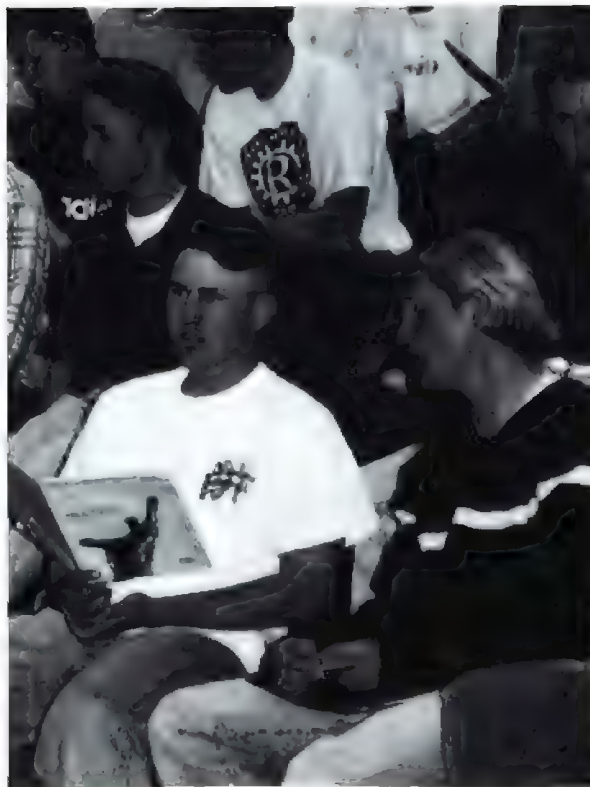

The sound of music rang throughout the halls of Columbine as Concert Choir's 105 members enjoyed another year of performing.

Senior Casey Casperson decided that his favorite part of rehearsals was, "that 'morning fresh' breath all 105 of us breathed in and out each morning."

In addition to learning the music, Senior Jennifer Andrews also enjoyed "the long history lessons we got to hear about the same music, every day."

After a year of hard work, Junior Marcie Fazio admitted, "The class was great because we still learned even though we always had fun."

the STORMING performing

...on your own, in the complete unknown,
like a role-ing stone...

Columbine's humorous talents were on display in the hilarious fall play, Get Smart.

Get Smart featured Casey Casperson as Maxwell Smart trying to stop the evil KAOS, led by Derek Nason as Mr. Big. The laughs were big as Maxwell encountered wacky situations involving a shoe phone and hiding in a trash can.

The play was fun for cast members and audience alike. Sophomore Amanda Peterson commented on how smoothly the cast worked together, while Senior Kelly Burdick stated, "It was great making everyone in the cast think that Casey's argument with me was part of the show."

•Heidi Munger

February 26 marked the opening performance of of CHS' musical Bye Bye Birdie. With a cast of over 40 actors and actresses, the show proved to be a monumental success as Freshmen stage crew member Michael Staver stated, "Everyone worked really hard and contributed to the musical's outstanding production."

Sophomore Sara Martin commented, "[being] in the musical is a meaningful addition to my life because for the rest of my living years I will always have 'We love Conrad' in my head." Each cast member left his or her mark in the continuing tradition of the musical. •Cassidy Stewart

the BEATING competing

...you got that rock n' roll music, it's got a back beat you can't lose it...

The roll of the drums, the call of the trumpet, the clang of the cymbals, and the toot of the flutes. What is this you ask? It could be nothing but the Columbine High School Marching Band.

Besides just performing at sporting events, the marching band put in endless hours of hard work and practice, sometimes practicing six days a week. Freshman Jessica Brown states, "It is a lot of hard work, but it is worth it. We give up every Saturday for marching band."

Despite the months of hard work and practice, marching band gave students a chance to form friendships and meet students from different schools. Freshman

Beth Ratay comments, "Giving up your Saturdays isn't fun, but you get to meet lots of new people."

Along with forming many new and different friendships, Junior Jessica Nuncio found yet another positive aspect of Marching Band. She explains, "Throughout the Marching Band season we played a lot of different kinds of music. That was one of the best things about band, being exposed to a variety of different kinds of music."

Marching Band involved a lot more work than just performing at halftime. Each member put in endless hours of work and dedication.

Whether it was plucking on the strings or blowing on the brass, members of the Jazz Band constantly found themselves working together to improve their performance.

Band participants met every day during seventh hour to prepare for upcoming concerts and competitions. Junior Mike Carlston commented, "We work together so we can reach the peak of instrumental excellence."

Other members used their practice time to relax, relieve stress, and also have fun. Junior Becky Hunt stated, "Jazz Band is a fun, easygoing class because everyone is outgoing and fun to be around."

•Sean Stevinson

The 96-97 Percussion Band banged out a wide variety of up-beat, harmonic tunes.

Percussion ensemble had the opportunity to perform before the school and competed with other schools around the state.

Sophomore Jared Foster said, "The best thing about percussion band is playing the drums with all my friends."

One exciting opportunity percussion band members had was using expensive equipment which would be unavailable outside of school.

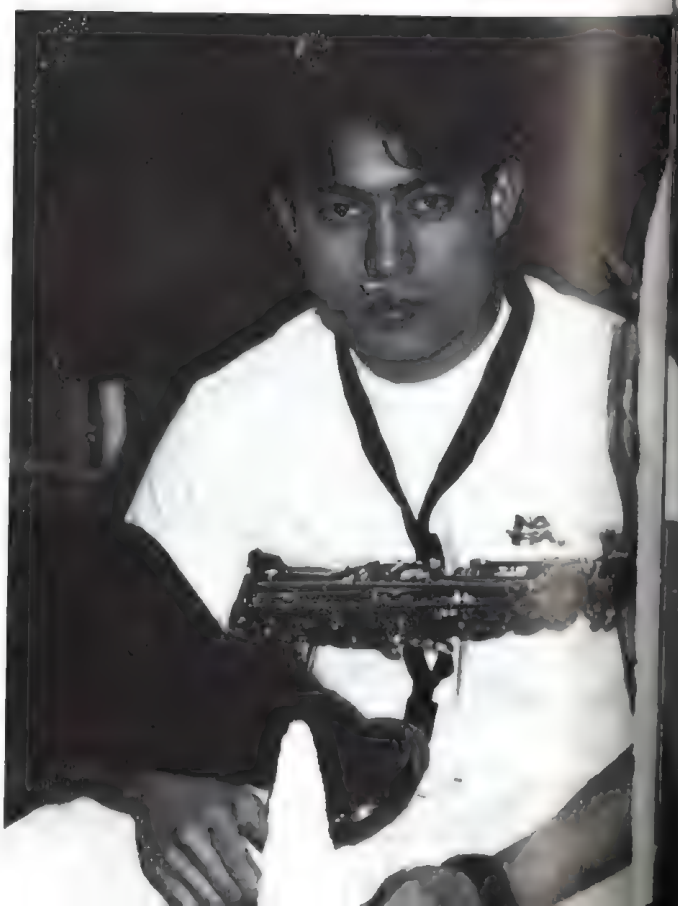

Senior Jared Porter stated, "Thanks to percussion band I'm learning better drumming techniques."

Concert Band, a second semester class, begins after the fall marching season is over. This continuation teaches students about music, and members also learn how to play other instruments. The Concert Band performed at several of the local elementary schools and also attended the Colorado State Championships.

According to Sophomore Jared Foster, "Concert Band is a good class to take if you enjoy playing different kinds of instruments." With Mr. Biskup as the director and teacher, students had an opportunity to express their talents.

•John Veigel

Columbine's Wind Symphony, made up of nearly 50 select band members, gave CHS students many opportunities to broaden their musical horizons. Junior Jessica Nuncio got involved in wind symphony because, "it helped me become a better musician, and gave me a chance to compete against other students."

Some highlights of the year were competing at numerous festivals, including the Columbine Concert Band Festival and performing at graduation. Sophomore, Michelle Markert stated, "Playing at graduation will be really special because we will be a part of the ceremony."

the THROWING bowing

...oh the answer, my friend, is bowing in the wind...

What do phones, sleeping bags, sofas, toy cars, bikes and tents have in common? They are all props used by the Columbine Winter Guard.

According to Senior April Griffith, "Winter Guard is a lot like Color Guard, but even more exciting." Griffith continued, "The rifles in Winter Guard can be thrown three times as high as the flags in Color Guard. Five or six rotation tosses are not uncommon."

This year's Winter Guard kept the audience very involved, performing less than 5 feet away from them. The team had a successful season, winning countless awards.

•Jerry Pernicka.

Dedication and talent came together for Columbine's Orchestra, which was rewarded with a successful year.

Junior Kim Croft shared, "The best thing about being in Columbine's Orchestra is that I am able to continue to develop my talent in playing the violin. I have acquired many important skills that I can use and apply to just about everything."

Through the year, Orchestra learned many different varieties of music, but mostly classical songs. Orchestra participated in the school's band concerts this year and they also performed at an all county festival with other orchestras.

For all of our differences we are connected by one similarity, our...

Synergy Through

Freshmen Caitlin Whitney, Sara Bay and Emily Paletta help each other brush up on debating skills in Forensics. Many students find that school organizations provide a great environment for learning, future planning, meeting friends or just having fun. photo by Matt Staver

Organization

It comes from the best in everyone and ties us together with the very fabric of our country. E pluribus unum, one out of many. Our ability to create a long-standing entity made up of multiple equal parts embodies the very essence of Synergy. Joining forces gives us the ability to produce the means to an otherwise unimaginable end. Whether it be creative, culinary, academic, community, business or fun oriented, the service provided is much more beneficial than a lone effort. Not to say that uniqueness should be stifled, but everyone's personal addition makes the end result eclectically amazing. Where else but in a group could people have the chance to fully express their talents? Instead of dampering diversity, genius is discovered by exploring new fascinations with others that share in similar persuasions. With all that has been said, it follows that the individual can be taken from the group, but the group cannot be taken from the individual.

COME

When you were small, you told of how the stars came to be. When you were grown, you spoke of standing on the moon- for if you fell, you would land on a star.
Shine long. Shine strong.

Time has flown
Our baby's grown - but not before her sweet and quiet ways
-brought happy days
and more love to her family.
Congratulations Così I
Mom, Dad, Tyler & Kelley

Bryan Aaron Boykin
You have been a wonderful son, brother and person. This is only the beginning for you, great things await you. When you reach the mountain top do not forget to reach back and to give back.
We love you,
Dad, Mom, Paul, Erik and Jere

Brian Farnell
Quarterbacks come in all sizes. On a scale of one to ten...then, now and always you are our special "10".
Try not to follow where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path, and leave a trail.
We love you,
Mom, Jim, Shauna & Kim

Rich Blaskovich
Treasure your yesterdays,
Dream your tomorrows,
and live your todays.
Congratulations and Good Luck!
Love,

You're definitely an independent spirit. We love you and your style. Don't hesitate at the door to the future - we are there to support you. The design of success is yours.

The day we thought would never come is finally here, and through it all we have stuck together. We have had some unforgettable times in the past, and I know we'll have many more in the future. I'll never forget the Olympics, Las Vegas, Mexico, and the scavenger hunt that we just couldn't get right! Thanks for the memories!
-Heathy-

Jessica

Congratulations! Here's a list of memories I hope you'll carry into the future: RTD to Elitch's, Eugene, the Joes, and CALEB, debate, chillin' at the Tivoli, FANG, playing pool, cars, boys, New Year's, and watching fireworks from your roof. Most of all, remember all the good times, and bad times, that made our friendship what it is.
-Love, Sarah-

Spider and a certain Zombie that I know...

High School is over now, but we can still breathe somehow. Through my experiences with you two "characters" I have learned what true friendship is all about. It was rough but now my only wish is to do it again. My advice to you is "...throw away stuff that you don't need in the end, but keep what's important and know who's your friend."
-Jonathan

Ked, Dork, Nerd, Sweetleaves, W.D.O.

I can't believe we've almost completed it all. We've stuck together no matter what! You've taught me to live my life for the moment and to take advantage of the fun along the way! I know no matter what the future brings us, we will always stick to what has brought us through these past four years, our unconditional friendship (mosie)! I love you always! The Most Nerd, Ster

The Fab Four

Where to begin, I don't know, just as I don't know where it all began. All I know is that the three of you have filled my senior year with memories I won't soon forget. How could I ever forget our late nights with Simpsons and dream sharing? I've learned one thing from all of you though. Being an editor wasn't all about the book, it was about experiencing the dynamics of how the four of us work together and about discovering unknown aspects of myself. This experience has been a benefit to us all, and filled us with a lifetime of memories, from Boulder to Billy's. I will miss you all dearly, but rest easy in the knowledge that I'LL BE BACK. Let the Fab Four live long and remember...Give me Mt.

believe in you Megan

MADDOG

Well where to begin. It has been a Rocky Road for us, but what a fun ride it was. I thank you for everything. You showed me true love and friendship, I will never forget it. You will forever hold the key to my heart. I will always be jealous of the next girl who wins your heart like I did and get to see the real you. I'll never forget "wishing upon a star" and our "first" in Grand Lake. I was meant to be. I love you forever.

-Yours faithfully, Sonja

Belac & Yonhina-we love you guys and enjoyed Rock 'n Bowling with you hotties!

Good luck next year "PEACE"

Yearbook Monkeys

You are all crazy monkeys! Long live driving Vol'o's, the Book-O'-Labels, the couch (ee) and luncheonettes at mi casa. Jerry & Mike-I'm almost as crazy as you two with my pants & my driveway. The three stroges-We are the loudest bunch of hoodlums yet, long live the mohawk hat! Leigh, Brinash-Camp-enough said. Every other rash-Good luck, keep the craziness alive.

RASHES

Nothing, not even mother nature, stands in the way of Bojork and Baker!

Little Bro

I can't believe how fast time has gone by. I'm sorry I wasn't always the nicest sister, but hey, what can I say? Back then I was bigger than you. Now, you tower over me. Our childhood together is over and soon, I'll be gone. Remember what I told you about learning the hard way. Don't struggle like I did. Take care of Mom & Dad. I love you & I'll miss you.

Thank you, thank you, thank you.
Thank you both for sticking around for us through all of the hard times. This is the best book ever. We have learned so much through Rebelations:
dedication, priorities and self worth.
None of this could have been possible without you two at our sides.

my dearest editors

The Beatles once sang:
In My Life...

"There are places I'll remember all my life, though some have changed. Some forever, not for better. Some have gone, and some remain."

I will forever remember our place, our beloved pub, where we shared laughter, tears, joys and most of all, friendship.
Through it all, you created this book, Synergy, but it's much more than a book, for each page contains a memory, a thought, a time remembered. As your efforts may go unnoticed by many, the pages know... they will whisper back to you the love they contain.

You will forever remain...

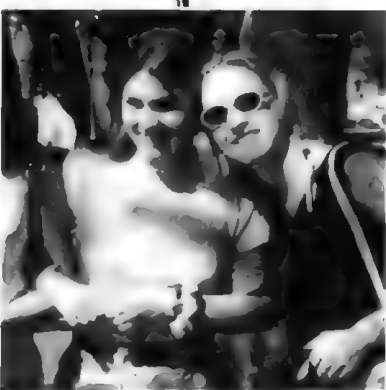

Love,

- Mrs. J and Joan -

*Many a day
And many a night
We struggled by the computer's light.
We scribed our lives
On the written page
With help from Meler, our wise old sage.
We've had our laughs
Our own brand of fun
And we've poked some jokes at everyone.
As we look ahead
We must look back
We've learned a lot, we're on the right track
You'll all be missed
At deadline time
But you've taught us well, we'll be just fine.*

*Thank for all of your years of hard work and dedication!
You've done a great job and we are proud of you! Never forget the late nights in the publ. Thank for the laughs and the memories! Good luck in college and in all that you do!*

never forget them.
Love Always, Laura

Claudia and Mike

Claudia, my favorite name, my forever friend, You're always there when I need a good laugh. No matter where life takes us, you'll always have a special place in my heart. To Mike, I'm sorry we didn't last. But don't look back in anger.
Those six short months will be a tiny dot on your life-line.
~Amanda~

Cassidy

Dear Cassidy-
The laughs and tears and memories we have shared over the past four years have meant the world to me. You will always be "someone who understands me and knows me inside out, that helps keep me together and believes without a doubt that I could move a mountain, someone to tell it to, If I had only one friend left I'd want it to be you!"
~Jenny~

RRR

From skiing, where it all started... to Heather's high peak of the year, Lindsey, and Courtney hitting Vegas a little too hard, and making sure Katy gets home in 45 minutes. The year has "hopped" on by and next year we will finally be running the show. Don't forget we have our own dance too!

Rebelations is published annually by the student yearbook staff at Columbine High School. Expression made by the students is not an expression of board policy. The school district and its employees are immune from any civil or criminal action based on any expression made or published by students.

A wave in the sea, seen in one way, seems to have a distinct identity, an end and a beginning, a birth and a death. Seen in another way, the wave itself doesn't really exist but is just the behavior of water, "empty" of any separate identity but "full" of water. So when you really think about the wave, you come to realize that it is something that has been made temporarily possible by wind and water, and is dependent on a set of constantly changing circumstances. You also realize that every wave is related to every other wave.

Rivers flow,
The sea sings
Oceans roar
Tides rise
Who am I?
A small pebble
On a giant shore,
Who am I
To ask who I am?
Isn't it enough to be?
